Autodesk® Navisworks® Seminar

Autodesk® Navisworks® software solutions enable project design, engineering, and construction professionals to unite contributions into a single building or process plant model. Team members reliably combine and share detailed 3D design models of any size or format for review.

Autodesk Navisworks project review products are at the heart of AEC building information modeling (BIM) and plant design workflows. They facilitate coordinated real-time visualization for validation, simulation, and analysis of 3D design project performance.
